

Company of the Week

For one week, your company occupies a coveted position on the StepStone welcome page, in the form of a banner.

With a "Company of the Week" banner, nearly all visitors to the StepStone site will see you. You will attract the attention of a wide audience, from a whole variety of backgrounds. What's more, this position is totally exclusive! Each week, just one company is given the opportunity to be "Company of the Week". So make sure you reserve this unbeatable slot in good time...

This banner can be linked to one of your job listings, to your company presentation or to the overview of all your StepStone job listings.

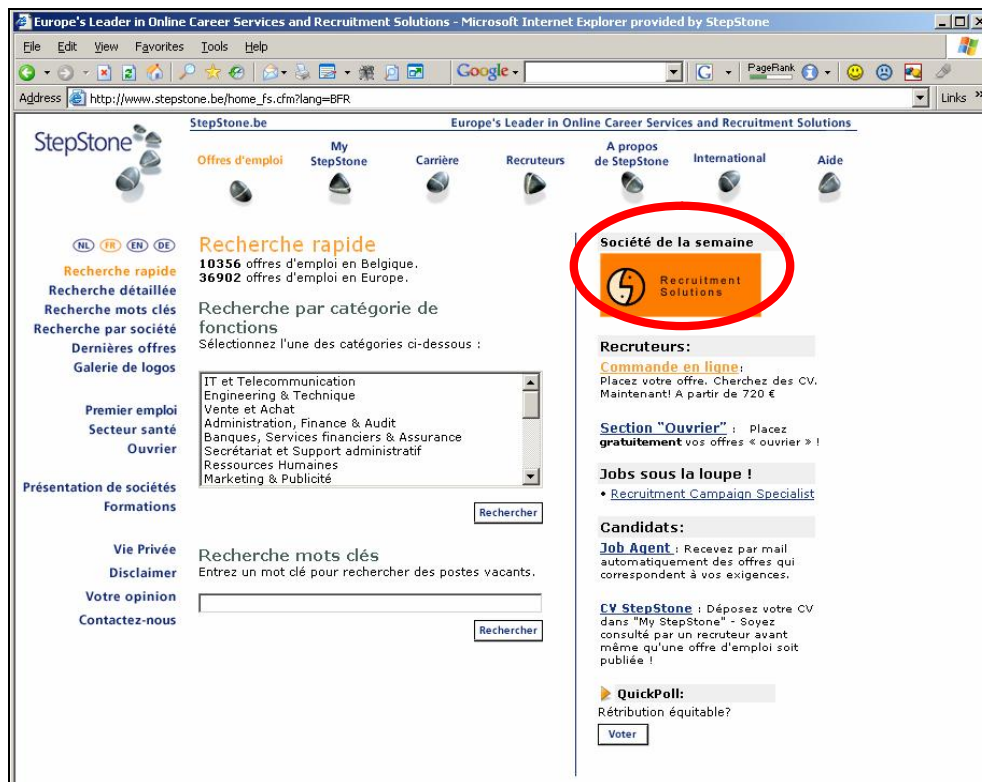

Statistics can be provided once the campaign has ended.

You can supply the banner yourself or leave StepStone to take care of it.
